

Legislators Propose Inquiry On Lobbying For Mackinac Bridge

LANSING (AP)—A legislative proposal to investigate the Mackinac Bridge Authority and the lobbying activities of former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner was under committee study today.

Rep. T. Jefferson Hoxie (R-St. Louis) sponsored a resolution to set up a five-member House committee to check into "the passage of legislation authorizing the Mackinac Bridge Authority, the issuance of bonds and the awarding of contracts."

Another committee called a public hearing on the bill which forced the resignation of former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner as a member of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

And the state received a second set of assurances that Van Wagoner did not profit from the issuance of $99,800,000 in revenue bonds for the building of the bridge.

Hoxie said he purposely did not make any accusations in asking for the investigation.

"But we have heard a lot of rumors," he said, "and the public has a right to know the facts."

The public hearing was set on the measure to authorize the Port of Detroit Authority to purchase the Detroit-Windsor tunnel. Rep.

Herb Clements (R-DeKerville), chairman of the House Marine Affairs Committee, set the hearing for 8 p.m., Feb. 25.

Committee Curious
Van Wagoner last week resigned as a lobbyist for Stifel-Nicholas and Co., sales agent for the tunnel company, Stifel-Nicholas was also one of the underwriters of the $99,800,000 revenue bond issue for building the Mackinac Straits bridge.

Van Wagoner resigned from the bridge Authority, denying benefit from lobbying for the tunnel bill.

Clements said the committee wanted to know why the brokerage firm "is so vitally interested in this question."

Aud. Gen. John B. Martin said John D. Murphy, president of Stifel-Nicholas, wrote him assurances that Van Wagoner did not benefit from the bond issue.

Murphy wrote Martin: "We have not now and never have had in the past any agreement or understanding of any kind to pay and compensation to Murray D. Van Wagoner, either directly or indirectly, of through the promise of employment, or in any other form, in connection with the issuance and sale of the bridge bonds."

South Korea Warns Indian Troops About Moving Of 76 POWs

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea warned today that additional Indian troops "will not leave here" until it is assured of future safety for 76 Korean War prisoners now en route to India.

The Koreans did not spell out the implied threat to use force if they consider it necessary.

The ROK decision was announced in a letter to Lt. Gen. K.S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Text of the letter, signed by Lt. Gen. Won Yong Duk, was made public by South Korea's office of public information.

About 3,000 Indian troops which guarded unrepatriated war prisoners have left for home and about 3,000 remain in Korea.

The 7 Korean prisoners held asked to be sent to neutral nations rather than to North or South Korea. The Indian command ordered them sent to India until arrangements are made for them to live elsewhere.

South Korea has demanded assurances that removal of the prisoners was "voluntary and destinations freely selected by them."

The U. S. 8th Army, which is responsible for moving the Indian troops from Korea's neutral zone to the port of Inchon said it had "no official knowledge" of the ROK threat.

However, a spokesman said "nothing has happened that relieves the U. N. Command of the responsibility for protecting the Indians under terms of the armistice."

Average Tax Rate In Michigan Cut To $28.20 Per $1,000

LANSING (AP)—The State Board of Assessors today fixed Michigan's average tax rate for 1953 at $28.20 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, a decrease of $1.82 from the preceding year.

The average tax rate is used to fix the 1954 taxes of railroads, telephone and telegraph companies, private car line companies, express and sleeping car companies.

The board said the .06 per cent reduction in the 1953 tax rate results mainly from the fact that the 1952 by the State Board of Equalization.

Two weeks ago Haussler broke open a bale of hay and there were his keys.

Bricker Treaty Proposal Bogs Down In Senate

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A divided and quarreling Senate may come to grips today with the controversial provisions of the constitutional amendment proposed by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit treaty powers.

With no clear indications of any decisive majority sentiment, Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, pressed toward a vote on a proposal which would require that treaties be made in "pursuance" of the Constitution.

All Messed Up

This White House-favored clause, however, had to wait in line until the Senate disposed first of a proposal to require roll-call Senate votes on ratification of treaties. This is acceptable to almost everyone except a score of senators who oppose any constitutional change.

Knowland tried to get the Senate to approve this latter proposal Monday after it had voted 62-20 to require that executive agreements, as well as treaties, must conform to the Constitution.

But such a parliamentary snarl developed that Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) rose to inquire at one point: "How messed up and confoundedly confused can you get?"

May Stir Up Fight

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) said he thinks executive agreements, as well as treaties, ought to be included as matters on which the Senate would be required to vote by recorded roll call, instead of by voice vote.

Such executive agreements now are not submitted to Congress in most instances. Proposals to make them inoperative as internal law unless they get congressional approval have drawn White House objections.

While there was plenty of bickering over legal points, the roll-call vote proposal was looked upon by all sides as a relatively minor issue.

But the provision offered by Knowland and Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) to require treaties to be made in "pursuance" of the Constitution seemed likely to stir a fight. Its sponsors say it is designed to guarantee that treaties are subject to court review on the question of constitutionality.

Rising Reds Plan Revolution In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's Communist party now numbers about 100,000—more than double its membership in July of 1950—and is "steadily preparing its underground for a revolution by means of violence," the chief of Japan's Public Security Investigation Board said today.

Two Boys Stuck In Asphalt Pit

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Two boys who tried to see which one could stand longest on a waste asphalt pit had a terrifying experience Monday night. They were stuck fast when firemen arrived and had been that way for 15 or 20 minutes.

Lt. J. A. McCaskill, head of a fire department rescue team which pulled Allen Perry, 14, and Roger Giarraputo, 9, loose after 22 minutes of hard work, said they would not have lasted much longer.

Pressure on lungs and heart probably would have killed them soon if the asphalt hadn't reached their breathing passages, McCaskill explained.

Allen said he and Roger were playing in the yard of a road construction company and dared each other about standing on the cold asphalt. When they got stuck in the pit, about eight feet in diameter, their cries sent other children running to spread the alarm.

Allen suffered a slight back sprain being pulled free.

It took 30 gallons of mineral spirits to remove all the two inches of asphalt from the boys' bodies.

Closing Of Weather Stations Opposed By Soo Congressman

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—Rep. Victor A. Knox (R-Mich.) has asked a 30-day delay in a hearing on proposed closing of Civil Aeronautics Administration stations at Pellston, Cadillac, and Gladwin.

The hearing was scheduled for Feb. 25 in Kansas City, Mo., but Knox said Monday if the CAA grants the postponement, he will try to get the talks transferred to Michigan.

The scheduled date, he said, was "too soon to allow persons affected to gather facts for presentation at the hearing."

Knox told the Sault Ste. Marie News by phone that if the Pellston station is closed, Capital Airlines flights originating in Detroit to the Upper Peninsula would be affected.

HOBBS, N. M. (AP)—The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Mitchell died Monday in a mysterious flash fire while alone in the house.

The 17-year-old uncle, Raymond Mitchell, said he had been baby-sitting with the youngsters and had left the house for about 10 minutes. Both parents work.

Dead were Johnny Lee Mitchell, 3, Ossie Lee, 2, Olivia, 16 months, and Raymond, 3 months.

Firemen were unable to determine the cause of the fire. The uncle said no fires were burning in any stoves or heaters when he left.

Military Court Checks On Germ War Confession

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A panel of high-ranking officers set out today to try to decide whether to recommend a court-martial for Marine Col. Frank W. Schwable, who made a false germ warfare confession while a war prisoner of the Communists in Korea.

Three Marine generals and an admiral, sitting as a court of inquiry, began taking testimony to help them determine why Schwable told his captors the United Nations used germ warfare weapons.

Worn Down By Reds

Schwable, who lives in nearby Arlington, Va., repudiated that confession after he was freed last year in a prisoner exchange. He said in a statement he signed the confession only after the Reds degraded and humiliated him and wore him out both physically and mentally.

The inquiry court is not authorized to make any finding of guilt or innocence. It is charged with making a report, on the basis of which the Marine Corps will decide whether to court-martial Schwable.

Torture Is Factor

It was not known in advance whether the hearing would be opened to the press and public.

Since Schwable and the Marines are generally agreed on the basic facts, the court's recommendations may be based on what it learns about the physical and psychological torture inflicted on the colonel.

Schwable is one of 35 Americans who signed germ warfare confessions while in Red captivity. Thirty-three were in the Air Force and two were Marines; Schwable and Maj. Roy H. Bley of Cabool, Mo.

Six Detroit Reds Convicted By Jury

DETROIT (AP)—Six Michigan Communists were convicted today of conspiring to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the United States government.

A federal court jury of seven women and five men returned its verdict to Judge Frank A. Picard after seven hours deliberation.

The six could be sentenced to a maximum term of five years.

The defendants, all admitted Communists, received the verdict with no show of emotion. Previously they said they expected a verdict of guilty.

Ernest Goodman, attorney for three of the defendants, said an appeal would be filed.

Judge Picard said he would sentence the six at 11 a.m. Friday.

He cancelled bonds on the five men defendants, sending them to jail. Mrs. Helen Allison Winter's $5,000 bond was continued. She had been ill throughout the trial but attended.

Seven Left Orphans By Family Quarrel And Double Shooting

MONROE (AP)—A double shooting that orphaned seven children in the climax of a family quarrel was called murder and suicide today.

Coroner Norman Capaul said Nelson Goins, 37, shot and killed his estranged second wife Geneva, 38, then turned his gun on himself. The pair were found on the stairway of their home by two of their children.

Brenda, 12, and Esther, 10, found Goins lying on top of the pistol. His wife, shot twice behind the ear, was at the top of the stairs.

The children, who also include Allen, 17; Oscar, 14; Darlene, 5; Ray, 3; and Charlene, 11-months, are from Goins' former marriage and his second.

Welfare authorities plan to care for the children.

Budgets Of Two Agencies Intact

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee made a barely perceptible scratch today in President Eisenhower's request for $3,338,783,000 to operate the Treasury and Post Office departments for the fiscal year 1955.

It sent to the House floor for debate starting Wednesday a bill recommending for the two agencies $3,333,241,060 for the 12 months starting next July 1.

This is $5,541,400, or less than two-tenths of 1 per cent, below what the President requested. It is $50,491,150 less than the two agencies received for the present year.

The bill was the first handled by the committee on the basis of Eisenhower's budget recommendations only. Last year's appropriation bills were based on original estimates by former President Truman and on revisions suggested by Eisenhower.

For the treasury's general operations, the committee approved $577,855,000, a reduction of $917,400 from the Eisenhower request.

For the post office, it recommended $2,755,386,700, a cut of $4,614,000 from the budget request.

Both departments were authorized to spend limited amounts to provide specialized training for selected personnel in a new campaign to promote efficiency.

Grand Rapids Mayor Almost Has Majority

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Mayor Paul G. Goebel of Grand Rapids came within 32 votes of winning outright re-election over two opponents in Michigan's second largest city in Monday's municipal primary elections.

An additional 32 votes would have given Goebel a majority over City Commissioner Stanley J. Davis and former Commissioner George Veldman, who ran with the support of former Mayor George W. Welsh and Frank D. McKay, businessman-politician.

Goebel got 19,545 votes, Veldman, 10,831, and Davis, 9,455. Goebel and Veldman will enter a run-off election in April. Goebel needed 19,926 to win without a run-off.

Divorcee Gives Kiss Of Death

CHICAGO (AP)—A 30-year-old divorcee, asking for a good-bye kiss from a younger man who had spurned her, shot and seriously wounded him and then killed herself Monday night.

Robert F. Gourley, 26, a commercial artist, was reported in serious condition with a bullet wound in the abdomen.

Dead on arrival at a hospital in suburban Berwyn was Mrs. Zora Simone, a clerk in a suburban Cicero bank, who had dated Gourley for the past several months.

Gourley told Lt. Roland Brani he had told Mrs. Simone he was going to stop dating her because she was a divorcee and older than he. He told police Mrs. Simone met him Monday night when he left work and she asked him to drive her to her home in Cicero.

Gourley told police that when he stopped in front of her house she asked him to kiss her good-bye and when he leaned over to kiss her she shot him. He said as he staggered from the car and fell to the sidewalk he heard two shots. Brani said Mrs. Simone was shot in the chest and abdomen and a .38 caliber revolver was found beside her.

Fossils 2 Billion Years Old Found On Superior Shore

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Discovery of fossils of plants more than two billion years old—the oldest yet uncovered in the world—was announced today at Harvard University.

The discovery on the northern shore of Lake Superior was made by Elso S. Barghoorn, associate professor of botany at Harvard, and Stanley A. Tyler, head of the department of geology at the University of Wisconsin.

Age of the fossils was determined by Prof. Patrick Hurley of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Tyler and Barghoorn said they found the plant fossils imbedded in a deposit of flint rock taken from the gunflint iron formation near Schreiber, Ont.

Lobby Control Measure Tied Up

LANSING (AP)—The Senate stood by its committee system over-whelmingly Monday night and crushed Sen. Donald W. Gilbert's attempt to take his lobbyist control bill away from a committee which has refused to release it for debate.

Gilbert, Saginaw Republican, lost by a 21-2 vote his attempt to discharge the State Affairs Committee from consideration of his bill to tighten regulation of lobbyists.

The "Third House"—lawmakers slang for the lobbyists—"is becoming arrogant," Gilbert declared.

He said that W. F. Doyle, manager of the Michigan Chain Stores Bureau—the "peer of the third house," had called the present law "the silliest on the law books."

Gilbert asked whether it was "silly" for 38 states to have such laws, at least 17 of them stiffer than Michigan.

Gilbert said, "Because of the activities of the insurance lobby the carcass of a prize bull dead on the highway has more value than the body of a child killed on the highway."

The 1953 business receipts tax was "written by the Third House," Gilbert said.

"Did it ever occur to you," he asked, "that we might have more grade separations if it were not for the railroad lobby?"

French Drive Rebel Army Back In Laos

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French Union forces broke out of their northwest Indochinese fortress of Dien Bien Phu today to drive encircling Vietminh troops from two hill positions. The French claimed they inflicted "heavy losses" on the Communist-led enemy and admitted "appreciable losses" on their side.

By their attack the French seemed to indicate they are going to carry the battle to the 36,000 rebels who have been threatening, but never yet have attempted, an all-out assault on the heavily fortified French post just north of the Laotian border.

Gen. Rene Cogny, French commander in northern Indochina, apparently tired of waiting for the Vietminh to attack the fortress, sent out 4,000 to 5,000 men against the rebels strongly entrenched in the hills surrounding the French Union position.

French fighters and bombers joined in with heavy strafing and napalm bombing of the Vietminh concentrations.

Hopes ran high among the French that they might be able to deliver a crushing blow to Ho Chi Minh's crack divisions. There are about three of these around Dien Bien Phu.

An excited crowd gathered below on the sidewalk to watch the boy, who had crawled out a window while his grandmother, Mrs. Mae White, was busy in another room of the apartment building.

At last, after several minutes, Stewart Green, 21, a salesman, and Walter Clark, 32, a porter, smashed a window screen to rescue the boy.

Dr. Chenoweth, 80, Is Claimed By Death Monday

Dr. Nancy Rodger Chenoweth, for many years a practicing physician in Escanaba, died Monday afternoon at Peterborough Civic Hospital, Peterborough, Ont., where her son, Dr. Rodger Chenoweth, is a member of the medical staff. She was 80 years old.

One of the city's most respected physicians, Dr. Nancy Chenoweth first came to Escanaba before 1900 following her graduation with a degree in medicine from a medical school in Toronto.

The "lady doctor" practiced intermittently in Escanaba for a number of years. She was at Menominee for a couple years before coming to Escanaba about 55 years ago.

Honored For Service

Dr. Chenoweth was born May 31, 1873, in Belwood, Ont., and after practicing here for several years married the Rev. G. T. Chenoweth, a Methodist minister in 1905. During the five years before his death in 1910, the Chenoweths lived in the wilderness bush country of northwest Canada, where the pastor ministered to spiritual needs of the natives and his wife aided them with her knowledge of medicine.

Returning to Escanaba following her husband's death, Dr. Chenoweth reestablished her practice and became well known in the community. She received national honor from the American Medical Association for her long years of service in her profession.

Until 1947 she continued to reside in Escanaba, maintaining her home and office in the 1000 block, First Ave. S. During World War II and the shortage of doctors in the community she assisted by treating those patients who came to her, although her own health was beginning to fail.

Moves To Canada

In 1947 she left Escanaba to make her home with her son, the Chenoweth's only child, at Peterborough, Ont. Her home was later sold to the city and razed to make room for a parking lot east of City Hall.

For a couple years after leaving Escanaba, Dr. Chenoweth practiced at Peterborough, and then her failing health required that she enter the hospital there. She was confined to her bed in the hospital for the last few years, but maintained her interest in community and world events and corresponded with old friends in Escanaba.

Surviving besides her son, Dr. Rodger Chenoweth of Peterborough, is a sister, Davina Rodger of Belwood, Ont.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 17, at the Toronto Crematorium Chapel. Burial will be in the Embro, Ont., cemetery, where her husband was interred 43 years ago.

Meter Accuracy May Be Checked By State Agency

Is the accuracy of parking meter clocks the responsibility of the municipalities that install the machines or the Bureau of Weights and Measures, Michigan Department of Agriculture?

Jack Hartzell, Rt. 1, Gladstone inspector for the Bureau of Weights and Measures, said yesterday that the matter was discussed at some length at a recent meeting of officials of the Bureau of Weights and Measures.

It was generally agreed that the Bureau has not only the authority but the responsibility of checking on the accuracy of the parking meters, Hartzell said.

The inspectors of the Bureau of Weights and Measures check all timing and weighing devices used for commercial purposes.

Nation's Prosperity Is Not Dependent Upon War Production

DEFENSE Secretary Charles E. Wilson talked some real sense about the nation's economy in an address last week at a Lincoln Day dinner in New York. His words deserve careful thought by the American people, particularly those who believe that a depression is inevitable because of the shift from war production to peace.

"Whatever we put into defense, we take out of our living standard," Wilson said. "All the energy, all the money poured into war goods means less effort and fewer resources that can be devoted to civilian goods."

Wilson stated that some people act like they believe the nation must have either war or unemployment and added, "None should be so foolish as to think that a sound road to a higher living standard is one built on military spending."

This was not a political speech in the literal sense although the speech was made at a meeting of the National Republican Club. It was a speech that dealt fundamentally with the nation's economy and one that offered some very sound advice on an important subject.

We should never consider for a moment that peace must necessitate national poverty. On the contrary, it is war that creates poverty. The billions that go into war not only cause tragedy in thousands of American homes by death and injury to warriors but they likewise are billions diverted from purposes that are designed to improve the living standards of mankind.

Dollars spent for bullets, guns and tanks are dollars not available for washing machines, television sets and new homes.

As long as there is a tremendous market available for production of peacetime goods, there need not be a false prosperity built upon war. The country can be more prosperous in peace than in war because the people need not be bled white in taxes to pay for a false, cruel prosperity that thrives on human misery.

The market for the production of our peacetime industries exists today and will continue to exist indefinitely. It will exist as long as there are people who want better living.

If we accept the theory that prosperity is impossible without war, we are lost. It is a vicious, wholly preposterous theory and one that threatens civilization itself.

WHO'S COFFEE VILLIAN?

(Milwaukee Sentinel)

SPECULATORS, AND NOT CROP FAILURES in Brazil, are chiefly responsible for the soaring price of coffee, according to Senator Guy M. Gillette, Iowa Democrat, who wants a law to put the coffee market under strict government regulation.

Our feeling is that the fewer laws of this kind the better; that the public usually finds its own way of fighting out-of-line prices. It might turn to tea, for instance, or cocoa.

However, if skulduggery exists in the inflation of America's favorite pick-me-up, let's know about it.

Attorney General Brownell, whose war against Communism has won him nationwide respect, has a further chance to endear himself to the country's heart. The anti-trust division of his Justice Department is studying complaints against high coffee prices, he says.

Study is not enough. Let's have some fast action to expose the villain, who ever—or whatever—he is.

Questions and Answers

Q—Is wire-tapping a federal crime?

A—Under a 1934 federal law and subsequent court interpretation, wire tapping is illegal only if the information obtained is divulged without prior authorization of the sender. No one has ever been convicted of wire tapping under this law, although wire-tapping is practiced by such agencies as the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Many federal convictions based on wire-tapped evidence have been reversed. Despite numerous court rulings, the wire-tapping issue has not been resolved. Bills to permit limited use of wire-tapped evidence are pending before Congress.

Q—If the proposed U. S. Air Force Academy is established, where will it be located?

A—The bill passed by the House creating a "West Point of the Air" does not specify the site of the proposed school. Numerous Congressmen have said they will try to have the Academy established in their state. If the House bill becomes law, the Secretary of the Air Force would choose the site. A special commission would advise him.

Q—I've noticed when amendments to the Constitution are proposed in Congress—such as the Bricker amendment—they always seem to be in the form of a "joint resolution." Do they have to take this form?

A—No. Amendments to the Constitution can be proposed in any form. They are usually in the form of a joint resolution.

Q—There's something suspicious about the story of a dog being graduated from a high school. Must have been teacher's pet.

A—Some gal's dresses can be worn back-forwards or forwards. Very handy when they don't know whether they're going or coming.

A French electrical worker swallowed a flashlight bulb while eating his lunch. Just a light eater.

Merry-Go-Round

By DEWE PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Believe it or not, but Rollis "Speed" Nelson, who was caught speculating on the commodity market while working for the senate agriculture committee, is now a $10,800-a-year consultant to Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

The secret records of the commodity market show that Nelson was speculating in soybeans in 1950 at exactly the same time he was surveying world market conditions for the senate agriculture committee. This not only gave him inside tips, but put him in a position to influence the futures market which is sensitive as a hair trigger to the slightest maneuver of congressional committees.

What is even more shocking, however, is Nelson's close association with Ralph Moore, a shady speculator who was both indicted and suspended from trading on the commodity market after he delivered phony press releases to the Agriculture Department press room in an abortive attempt to influence lard prices.

Moore was a speculating partner of ex-Senator Elmer Thomas, Oklahoma Democrat, during Thomas' heyday on the commodity market. After Thomas was defeated for re-election largely because of his commodity deals, Moore lined up deals for Senator Joe McCarthy and Louis Kung, bankroll man for the China lobby.

As for Secretary of Agriculture Benson's new consultant, this column can reveal that Nelson, while still a staff member for the senate agriculture committee, lived in the same house with Ralph Moore. It is an interesting coincidence that Moore was also speculating heavily in soybeans in 1950, along with his China lobby friends. Nelson's soybean speculations were at the same time, though no connection can be proved between their soybean accounts. What can be proved, however, is that Moore opened an account in cottonseed oil for Nelson shortly after he left the agriculture committee.

It was ex-Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan who first sounded the alarm about Nelson. Though the commodity market records are strictly secret, Brannan was so alarmed at finding a speculator on the senate's agriculture committee staff where he could influence market prices, that he tipped off Nelson's sponsor, conscientious Senator Milt Young, North Dakota Republican. As a result, Young quietly dropped Nelson.

Afterward, Nelson went into business for himself as a commodity dealer, renting office space from his pal, Ralph Moore.

When questioned by this column, Nelson admitted his speculating past and stated: "I am not in the market now. I sold out the day I came over to the Agriculture Department."

INDO-CHINA WORRIES

The crucial battle to save Indo-China is being waged on two diplomatic fronts in addition to the jungles of Laos.

Front No. 1 is Berlin where John Foster Dulles has had two talks with Foreign Minister Molotov in an effort to get him to call off the Indo-China rebels. All Dulles has got so far is a Slavic shoulder shrug. And undoubtedly that's all he will get; for the Kremlin is encouraging the Indo-China war at this particular time as pressure on the discouraged French to stay out of the United European Army. If the French stay out, they can get peace in Indo-China—though how long that peace will last is problematical.

In Berlin also, French Foreign Minister Bidault has given Dulles a blunt warning that the French Chamber of Deputies is almost sure to vote an end of the war with in the next three months. Dulles has relayed this warning to the White House, in fact cabled Eisenhower a half-dozen times last week urging that every aid possible be rushed to Indo-China.

Front No. 2 is in Washington where there's a division of opinion regarding American aid to the French. Most vigorous supporter of aid to France is dynamic Admiral Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who has leaned toward sending American troops; also wants to blockade the China coast; is also the man who put through the sending of American mechanics to repair American planes.

General Nathan Twining, chief of staff for the Air Force, was opposed to sending these mechanics, but was overruled by Radford and Eisenhower.

The group inside the Pentagon which supports Radford has worked out a plan to send four divisions of U. S. troops to Indo-China, along with American artillery, tanks and jet fighters.

But the opposite faction points out that the minute American fighting men show up in the Indo-Chinese jungles, Chinese Communists are certain to intervene—as they did in Korea and all-out war would explode.

A man in Colorado was robbed of $500 in a revolving door. No good ever comes of revolutions.

There's something suspicious about the story of a dog being graduated from a high school. Must have been teacher's pet.

Some gal's dresses can be worn back-forwards or forwards. Very handy when they don't know whether they're going or coming.

A French electrical worker swallowed a flashlight bulb while eating his lunch. Just a light eater.

It Never Fails

Harmony Reigns At Club Where Lawgiver's Wives Go To School

By PATTI SIMMONS

WASHINGTON (NEA)—There's complete Republican and Democratic harmony in Washington—if you know where to look for it. The place is the Congressional Club.

It doesn't matter whose husbands bicker on the "hill." Here the partisan ladies bury their political hairpins and get downright clubby.

Currently, a bunch of legislative spouses are as pleased as high school freshmen. Together they're learning to turn out newspaper stories, to speech-make in public, bid a clever bridge hand, even how to parlezvous in French embassy lingo.

The classes are a part of the club's program, as are the parties and receptions attended by the Democratic and Republican ladies. Even with elections coming up, the Congressional Club school bell tolled recently for around 100 enthusiastic students.

Why would a congressman's wife want to tackle journalism?

"I might be helpful to my husband in his weekly letters to the newspapers," explains the wife of Rep. James Frazier Jr. (D-Tenn.).

Mrs. Ross Adair, chairman of the public speaking class, feels this course will make the ladies more of an asset to their husbands. The wife of a Republican representative from Indiana, she has taken it twice.

French lessons are a natural for those whose husbands are on the Foreign Affairs Committee. French class chairman is Mrs. Bailey Merrill, whose husband is also a Republican representative from Indiana. She majored the language in college.

The wife of Rep. Joe Evins (D-Tenn.) used to teach French in high school. But she decided to be a pupil again and brush up on her conversation.

An enthusiast about the bridge lessons, Mrs. Gardner Withrow of Wisconsin thinks playing is a fine way to get to know the congressional wives better. Most of those who signed up already played bridge but want to master the new point system under Mrs. Ruth Nathan.

Congressional daughter Mrs. John S. Cross explains that the bridge classes are only one part of the club program. There's a weekly bridge marathon as well. Members also signed up for hat-making sessions.

Mrs. Thomas Abernethy, whose husband is a Democratic legislator from Mississippi, figures the wives are probably interested in taking a really good hat and being able to use it more than one season. Congressional spouses, who are apt to make numerous public appearances, will now be able to doctor up their old headgear.

Easter will, no doubt, find some of the ladies modeling a chapeau made completely from scratch under the direction of Mrs. Emma Resides, millinery consultant.

Different kinds of classes have been offered through the years. When Connecticut's Governor John Lodge was in Congress, his wife taught a gym class.

An up-to-date trend? On the contrary, in checking back through club history it was discovered that around 1915 congressional wives also turned out for gym.

Incorporated by an Act of Congress in 1908, the club boasts among its honorary life members Mamie Eisenhower, Mrs. Richard Nixon, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge. Besides congressional wives, membership is open to congresswomen; also to Cabinet and Supreme Court spouses. Daughters and daughters-in-law can be associate members.

Some of the ladies who are taking newspaper writing with former Washington columnist and reporter Elizabeth Oldfield may soon be sending feature stories to their home paper. The workshop includes straight news writing for those "journalists" who want to explain to the folks back home just how a bill in Congress is going to affect them.

For some of the ladies writing isn't new. The wife of Rep. Leroy Johnson (R-Calif.) has done a column for a California paper. The wife of Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.) has had experience turning out material for a Republican Women's newsletter. Class chairman Mrs. Karl LeCompte is a charter member of the Iowa Women's Press Club and used to write a cooking column.

Although public speaking is popular it's not because the congressional spouses intend to start competing with their husbands. "We all feel we need a little more self-confidence," is the way Mrs. Adair explains it.

Teacher Mrs. Hester Provensen stresses the kind of speaking a legislator's wife might be expected to do, such as short presentation and acceptance remarks. Then when Mrs. Congressman attends that next meeting she'll be all set—even if handed an unexpected bunch of flowers.

Toward the end of the course the ladies all chip in for a luncheon at which each of them makes a little speech. The wife of Rep. Edward Miller (D-Md.), who is taking the class for the second time, remembers this well.

"I felt like I was buying a ticket to my own funeral," she smiles.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

FOR SAFER AUTOS—How safe are you and your family in that pretty new automobile of yours?

Not very safe, reports Andrew J. White, director of Motor Vehicles Research, independent automotive evaluating laboratory at Portsmouth, N. H.

White is reluctant to point out the safety design deficiencies of the modern automobile, not because he is not convinced that they exist, but because the findings of his research group have been criticized by the automobile industry.

Defending his reports on the safety faults of the auto, White says that research shows justification for his plea that auto manufacturers think more of safety in their designs.

WHAT YOU BUY—"No new safety design is apparent in automobile models for the past 20 years," said White.

"The emphasis on speed, comfort and eye appeal minimizes our chances of getting out of a crash alive."

Crash tests with six cars and a bus were run at the Portsmouth air port under conditions simulating actual highway accidents. It is on these and other findings by White's researchers that some auto manufacturers have made some design changes—while others ignored White and scoffed at his findings. Said White:

"It may be some time before the public demands cars that are safe, not just fast, comfortable transportation. When that time comes, we can probably show marked reduction in car deaths and injuries."

BLOOD AND PLASTER—Motor Vehicles Research sent six radar-guided automobiles crashing into each other and into a parked bus at the Portsmouth airport. In the vehicles were life-sized dummies, covered with chalk to mark objects they struck or objects that struck them.

Cars ranged from 1937 to 1953 models and speed of the cars at the time of the crash ranged from 20 to 53 miles per hour. Cars were crashed head-on into each other as well as into the bus.

In the tests it was demonstrated that flesh would be torn and blood spilled, that bones would be broken when the crashes occurred at what is considered relatively slow speeds. Some of the plaster dummies were mangled and dismembered.

"When a car hits something moving, or can ricochet, at 20 miles an hour the passengers have a chance," White concluded. "When the target is stationary, the jig is up."

FLYING MISSILES—The tests, recorded by 30 cameras located both inside and outside the crash cars revealed a chilling story of death.

"At 20 miles an hour, loose objects on the rear shelf will explode on sudden stop into killing missiles. A camera or a child's toy can become murderous when it is a free moving object flying about the inside of a car."

"At 20 miles an hour, luggage in the rear trunk exploded into the car interior."

White concluded that car manufacturers should build barriers between the trunk and rear seat to withstand such force, rather than place there a neat but flimsy piece of cardboard.

MATTER OF DESIGN—The crash tests revealed that one 1953 model auto did have the best protection against flying objects from the trunk into the back of the rear seat—but on its radiator front was a spear-like ornament that punched a two-inch hole into the side of the bus.

"Suppose that gadget had hit a pedestrian instead of the sheet metal side of the bus? Why is it necessary to fix spears and lances to the front of cars?"

As a result of these and other tests, some auto manufacturers have strengthened frames, spring suspension and engine supports. One manufacturer eliminated a "pop out" windshield that tests revealed as more unsafe than the conventional throat-slasher.

THE CRITIC—White has been taken apart before for his findings, therefore it will do him no further harm to report that he believes:

Little or no advance has been made in fuel economy in the last 10 to 12 years.

Seat anchorages are improper and easily torn from their fastenings.

Brakes are basically inadequate to cope with speeds. One-piece windshields distort objects and the road ahead. Large glass areas cause driver and passengers to suffer sun fatigue.

Jacks supplied with cars are poorly designed, gasoline filler pipes are so located that they can only with difficulty be filled from a gasoline can in an emergency.

The Doctor Says...

Slight Blood Pressure

Variations Not Held Vital

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

I often wish that people would pay less attention to small variations in their blood pressures, particularly when the blood pressure goes up and down only a few points between doctor visits. Nevertheless, interest in the blood pressure seems here to stay.

The blood pressure is the pressure, or outward thrust which the blood stream exerts on the walls of the arteries through which it passes. When the heart contracts and squeezes blood into the arteries, the blood pressure goes up; when the heart relaxes the pressure falls.

There is some variation in blood pressure between different people and a slow tendency for it to increase with age. If the blood pressure becomes permanently higher than "average," high blood pressure is said to be present.

With the exception of the occasional person who has some disease such as Addison's disease which produces low blood pressure in addition to other symptoms, persons with low blood pressure is lucky.

No one knows exactly why some should have a "normal" blood pressure or a lower than normal blood pressure, but it seems certain that the family inheritance has something to do with it. Instead of being something to worry about, the person with low blood pressure, with the occasional exception mentioned can congratulate himself or herself on having a desirable quality which is likely to prolong life!

NORMAL BLOOD PRESSURE GOOD

All of the studies of longevity indicate a normal or a lower than normal blood pressure is a favorable omen. Such persons are less likely to develop heart trouble and similar conditions than those with high blood pressure. Occasionally those with low blood pressure report some lack of energy, but this is probably not abnormal and when it does occur it is not too important.

Ordinary low blood pressure need not require any special foods, though attention to the laws of good health and diet should be followed.

Yesterday's 48 A Record High

Yesterday's high temperature of 48 was the warmest Feb. 15 on record in Escanaba. The old record of 42, set in 1907, was passed yesterday noon and the 48 mark was reached at 3 o'clock.

The unusual weather was general in the middle west and Chicago's reading of 69 shattered all February records for that city. Sunday Bend and Ft. Wayne, Ind. also reported similar registrations.

In Lower Michigan there were thunder storms accompanied by heavy rainfall. Detroit has 1.7 inches of rain and Lansing 1.9. Heavy rains are also reported in many areas to the south. Memphis, Tenn. had rains of almost cloudburst proportions.

There has been a moderate change since then. A low of 29 was recorded by the Escanaba weather bureau this morning. S. E. Decker, of the weather bureau, expects the temperature to rise to about 40 this afternoon. He expects temperatures for the next five days to be from 8 to 10 degrees above the average temperature for this time of the year.

In contrast to this, the Peace River country near the Alaskan border reports a shivery 50 degrees below zero.

Speeding Speech Described Here

The speeding of speech, Bell Telephone Company's notable progress in the development of long distance communication, was the subject of a talk presented to the Escanaba Rotary Club yesterday noon by Roy D. Zwemer, of the Michigan Bell division office at Menominee.

Zwemer also spoke to Escanaba Senior High School students in assembly Monday morning, and to the Wells Lions Club last night. He was introduced to Rotarians here yesterday by George Marquander, Escanaba exchange manager of Michigan Bell.

In the old days the "place to place" routing of a long distance telephone call across the continent required as much as 15 minutes to complete—and the cost was $15 for a three-minute conversation, the speaker said.

Today, long distance calls are switched mechanically across the United States and Canada in a matter of seconds, although the number of telephones and calls have increased, Zwemer pointed out. In the United States alone there are now 50 million phones.

Bell Telephone engineers devised mechanical equipment to speed the call through 25 control centers, and the ultimate plan is to establish 70 such centers on the North American continent.

Switching machines dial the call direct on station to station calls, with the machine making the best selection of an alternate route if circuits are busy. The operation is entirely mechanical. On person-to-person calls, however, the use of the telephone operator continues to be required.

Zwemer demonstrated the improvements in dialing mechanism, with connections activated by swift musical tones rather than the slower circuit interruptions of the old dial phone. Progress in the field of communication has made more and better jobs, Zwemer said, with operators relieved of uninteresting and monotonous tasks.

National Guard In Recruiting Meet

Fourteen recruits who have enlisted during the first month of the current two month recruiting drive of Co. C, 107th Engineers, will be sworn in at this week's regular drill. The ceremony will be conducted by the local commander, Capt. Johnson, during the first hour of drill period, at the Escanaba armory. Drill is started at 7:30 p. m., with swearing in ceremonies scheduled at approximately 7:45.

This has been in progress for the last five weeks and ended with an exam at the last drill. Each passing guardsman must have shown proficiency in all the basic military subjects. Lt. Stephen Fraddo is recruit school director with the following men as his assistants: Sgt. Herbert Peterson, Cpl. Dale Carley, Pvt. David Nivison, and Pvt. Donald Brewer. The school director will be in charge of this part of the program, with the awarding of certificates at a later date.

Men scheduled to pass the schols high standards and be assigned job openings in the platoons are as follows, Privts. Frederick Brunette, Raymond Brunette, Richard Richer, David Nelson, and Raymond Beauchamp.

Story Of Oil Told To Lions

POWERS — Oil men have always managed to find oil faster than people have used it, and a government plan to build a $400,000,000 synthetic fuels plants now to make gasoline from coal is "utter waste and nonsense," J. E. Taylor, Standard Oil Company representative, said here today.

"The government plan would be obsolete long before it was completed," he told members of the Lions Club at a weekly meeting at Powers.

Although petroleum becomes harder to find and recover from underground each year, "synthetic fuels from any source are unlikely to become a factor during the next 25 years," he predicted.

12 Years Reserve
Speaking on "Where Tomorrow's Gasoline Will Come From," Mr. Taylor, who is public relations representative for Standard at Green Bay, said that "as long as the oil industry continues under free, private management there will be plenty of gasoline at reasonable prices to drive the automobiles of your grandchildren and their grandchildren." Two gallons of today's improved gasoline do as much work as three gallons used to do back in 1925, he said.

"The United States has proved reserves of about 30 billion barrels, or enough to last for about 12 years," he reminded that "if we look back to 1920, we did not have even as much as a 12 year reserve."

"Our proved reserves have grown larger instead of smaller," he added.

There's no danger the supply of gasoline will run out, he declared. The only question is, what raw materials will be used to make it?

Research On Synthetics
Oil companies as well as the U. S. Bureau of Mines are doing extensive research on synthetic fuels, and oil companies will begin making them commercially "as soon as there is any reason," the Standard representative said.

Spending $400,000,000 of the people's money now to back a full-scale plant to make gasoline from coal, as urged recently by Secretary of the Interior Chapman, would be "a waste of steel as well as a waste of money," he warned.

"There could hardly be a better example of the wastefulness of socialization, and of having a job done by federal government employees, who have little incentive to work efficiently."

"Industry is forced by competition to work efficiently," the oil man pointed out, "and so produces much more in the way of public benefit for each dollar spent."

"Technology — not politics — is responsible for our present high standard of living," Mr. Taylor said.

Oil Search Costly
He forecast an increase in the price of gasoline, and shortages or even rationing of petroleum products, if efforts in Washington to slash or eliminate the percentage depletion allowance provision of the federal income tax law should be successful.

Finding oil is a costly and risky business, he said.

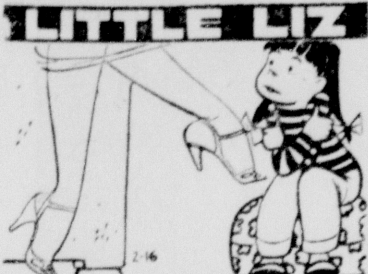

"Only one out of nine exploratory wells is successful. The others are dry holes. Once taken out of the well, the oil is gone forever," he described the depletion allowance as "simply a recognition of the high financial risks involved in finding and producing oil."

By means of simple combustion experiments the speaker also explained, in part, the nature of gasoline and how gasoline may be made in the future.

Hydrocarbons — such as those in petroleum — can be tailored-made to suit the needs of any particular engine, he said. "These needs vary greatly from engine to engine."

In addition to coal reserves large enough to supply the U. S. with gasoline for hundreds of years, the vast tar sands of Canada and the oil shales of Colorado are possible future sources of hydrocarbons, he said.

Atomic energy seems entirely out of the question for automobiles, according to Mr. Taylor, because of cost and the heavy shielding devices needed to protect people from dangerous radiations.

Red Strike Riot Crushed In Rome

ROME (AP)—Heavily-armed riot police quickly smashed the first outbreak of violence today in connection with a Communist-called one-day general strike in Rome.

A commissioner of police was injured by a flying stone. At least 60 demonstrators, including women, were taken into custody.

Squads of police in their Red riot jeeps dashed into the crowd of several hundred demonstrators as they marched through one of downtown Rome's main streets.

The Red-led walkout had twin aims — to boost wages and to harass the shaky new government of Premier Mario Scelba.

The demonstrators, mostly students, carried huge posters demanding higher pay.

A police lieutenant said the ring-leaders of the demonstration were Communists.

The trumpeter swan is believed to have been saved from extinction when a flock of 76 was found in Montana after the bird was believed to be extinct and a refuge was established for them in 1935.

Trading was at a rate of around 1 1/2 million shares for the day, considerably under Monday's heavy 2,080,000 shares.

New York Central, the big star Monday, staged a delayed opening again with a reverse twist.

Monday the floor of the exchange was deluged with buying orders, and it took governors two hours and 20 minutes to scare up enough sellers to make an opening block of 5,000 shares at 26. The stock closed up 1/4 at 25 3/4.

Today there was a delay of around 40 minutes as selling orders hit the floor and governors had a hard time finding buyers until the price was cut back 1/4 at 24 on two blocks of 30,000 and 15,000 shares. The stock improved from its low within a short time but sank back again under additional offerings.

Brokers still hold to the opinion that the current flurry is speculation arising from the fight by Robert R. Young to gain control of the railroad, rather than buying by the principals themselves.

Among lower stocks were Illinois Central, Union Pacific, Pan American World Airways, American Airmails, American Telephone, American Tobacco, U. S. steel, and Radio Corp.

U. S. government bonds declined in a minor way.

IRON RIVER—A pair of Milwaukeeans who formerly lived in the Iron River district, Edward Gugliotta and Bob Olsen, are beating through the thickets and the bush on snowshoes today, tramping cross-country from Amasa to Kenosha on their "vacation." The sons of the Antone Olsens of Iron lake and the Dominic Gugliottas of Caspian are off on an arduous seven-day hike to find out what living outdoors in the northwoods in midwinter can be like. They want to find out whether they can be reasonably comfortable despite severe temperature. Gugliotta is 33, Olsen 29.

CASPIAN—A 30-year ambition, the erection of St. Cecilia church, will be assured for 1954 in a building fund appeal in the Caspian Catholic parish in the next four weeks, climaxing in a house-to-house canvass by men of the parish on Sunday, March 14. Rev. St. Herman Fadale, pastor, said the goal of the drive is $80,000 and its successful attainment will make possible a start within several months upon the Tudor Gothic church which will seat 450 persons, largest capacity of any church in Iron county.

Wild Turkey Planting Cheering To Sportsmen

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer
LANSING (AP)—Most of the people who are devoted to Michigan's outdoors were heartened by the Conservation Commission's decision to try to re-establish wild turkeys.

No one's hopes are too high, because the experiment might not work. But they are heartened that the commission still has enough of the spirit of adventure to go ahead in the face of the lukewarm attitude of game chief Harry D. Ruhl. Ruhl said the birds, which once swarmed in the Southern Michigan hardwood forests, had only "a fair chance at best" of being re-established.

Worth a Trial
More than that, he said if they do catch on, he doubts there will be enough of them to permit hunting. Like the elk in the Pigeon River State Forest, he said, the turkeys will probably only be for observation and scientific interest. But the commission told him to go ahead and spend $5,000 a year for three years on the try.

"We'll never know for sure until we try it," said commissioner Joseph P. Rahilly of Newberry, instigator of the move. So Ruhl plans to make the first plantings in the remotest parts of the Allegan State Forest in Allegan County this spring. And most people who have any interest in Michigan's outdoors wishes him far more success than he anticipates.

Sportsmen's clubs that are members of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs—and that means almost all of them—are by no means as unanimously in favor of proposals for tighter trout fishing regulations as was first supposed.

Clubs Take Polls
MUCC secretary Harry R. Gaines has just released the latest returns of a poll on the proposals he conducted among the clubs. A total of 117 clubs sent in returns, but some of them answered only some of the questions.

The only proposals they favored were establishing varied size limits on streams depending on the growth rate of the trout (59-46), restricting trout fishing to one rod and line (99-15) and banning the use of salmon eggs as bait and for chumming scattering eggs to attract trout (58-53). They turned down increasing the cost of the trout stamp (47-64), prohibiting trout fishing at night (22-87), reducing the creel limit from 10 to eight (51-59), outlawing plugs, spoons and gang-hooks (49-58), and extending the "flies only" and 10-inch size limits to other streams than the Au Sable (17-95.)

As a matter of interest, the clubs were also polled on changing opening day of the deer season from Nov. 15 to Nov. 20. They turned this down 51-57.

U-M Conservation Students Conduct Census On Deer

ANN ARBOR—Counting deer for college credit is routine procedure nowadays for University of Michigan wildlife management students who each year travel to the U-M Edwin S. George Reserve near Pinckney to conduct the annual "deer census."

According to Prof. Warren W. Chase, chairman of the U-M Department of Wildlife Management, this year's census, or "deer drive" showed a total of 74 deer living on the reserve. Since the herd is usually kept at about 50, this means approximately 25 of the animals will have to be "harvested" or removed.

In conducting the census, a line of men is drawn across one extreme end of the reserve. Walking across the area, they naturally drive the deer towards the other fence. At that point the deer will reverse their path and, as they pass the men, are counted off, each man tallying those which pass on his right.

Professor Chase points out that deer harvesting is necessary "to avoid overbrowsing, lack of food and damage to the area." The harvesting will be conducted by Lawrence Camburn, custodian of the reserve.

Two miles square, the 1268 acre area was given to the U-M in 1930 by Col. Edwin S. George, Detroit industrialist. He had purchased the land originally as a country estate. Because he wanted to see deer around his home, Colonel George erected a fence about the land and stocked it with four does and two bucks.

This was in March 1928, and in 1933 the first deer drive and count was conducted. Results showed a deer population of approximately 160. Harvesting was begun that year. Since that time 738 deer have been removed. Currently about 25 are harvested each year.

Meat from the harvested deer is sold to Ann Arbor townspeople and others interested in obtaining it. The skins also are sold. Proceeds from all sales go towards wildlife and related research conducted on the reserve.

Dr. Irving Cantrill, reserve curator, is in charge of studies conducted on the outdoor laboratory. He also plans, with the help of the U-M School of Natural Resources, the yearly deer census of the herd.

The reserve itself is managed through the U-M Museum of Zoology.

Eskimos Came From Siberia Says Explorer

Though Stefansson, Amundsen, Peary, Parry, and Arctic explorers as far back as Frobenius have left records concerning the Eskimos, and even the Vikings have handed down in saga-like form accounts of their association with those struggling folk who live in the silence of the North Polar regions, Knut Rasmussen, the Danish explorer, knows them best of all.

Nowadays, Arctic exploration is carried out mainly by air. Flights have made the five-and-a-half-million square-mile area that lies within the Arctic circle into a sort of frozen Sahara, which separates the three continents—Europe, Asia and North America—by well under three thousand miles. In the days gone by, when high pooped sailing vessels and long high prowed Viking ships made precarious journeys into those unknown icebound seas, their crews brought back strange tales of the Arctic native tribes whom they described as "tartar-like black-haired snow gypsies, who fished and hunted with the most primitive weapons imaginable." And, indeed the Eskimos are little changed today.

According to Rasmussen the Eskimos are scattered from Greenland to Siberia about a third of the way round the globe and total no more than about 33,000. Rasmussen's Greenland dialect was sufficient to get him into complete understanding with all the tribes.—From "Arctic Solitudes" by Admiral Lord Mountbatten. Philosophical Library, Inc. 1953.

Pocket Money Lure Robs High Schools

By JAMES TOMLINSON

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—"Money in the pocket and a jalopy in the garage" are twin lures pulling many boys and girls out of high school before they graduate, an Indiana educator said Monday.

"Over 50 per cent of all students who enter high school as freshmen do not remain to graduate," said Herman L. Shibley. Only "three-fourths of the country's youth of high school age are attending classes at the present time."

Shibley, superintendent of schools in Indianapolis, spoke at one of the panel discussions held here at the American Assn. of School Administrators convention.

"Why do these boys and girls drop out of high school?" Shibley asked. "surveys show approximately 43 per cent do so because they prefer to work."

"Twenty-five per cent drop out because they don't like the school program and don't think that it is serving their purpose."

Others drop out to help support their families, enter the armed forces or because of ill health.

Shibley said schools face a tough problem in hanging on to students in times "when there is a great demand for more laborers and youth can go out and get almost any job it wants at high level wages."

Shibley told his audience of educators they can cut down the "educational waste" of high school drop-outs by:

1. Seeing to it that each student in high school feels "there is at least one person on the staff who cares very much about him. The classroom teacher possibly should be this person."
2. Paying greater attention "to the task of understanding today's teen-agers" and keeping wide open the "lines of communication" from "faculty to students and students to faculty."
3. Providing more consistent school discipline.
4. Setting up extra - curricular activities that will "not cost the student too much money."

It was 5 a. m. She called police who arrested the two men at the school.

Ford's New Ball-Joint Suspension gives you the Newest Ride on the Road!

This revolutionary new Ford front suspension soaks up road shock before it reaches you! Makes all riding and handling easier!

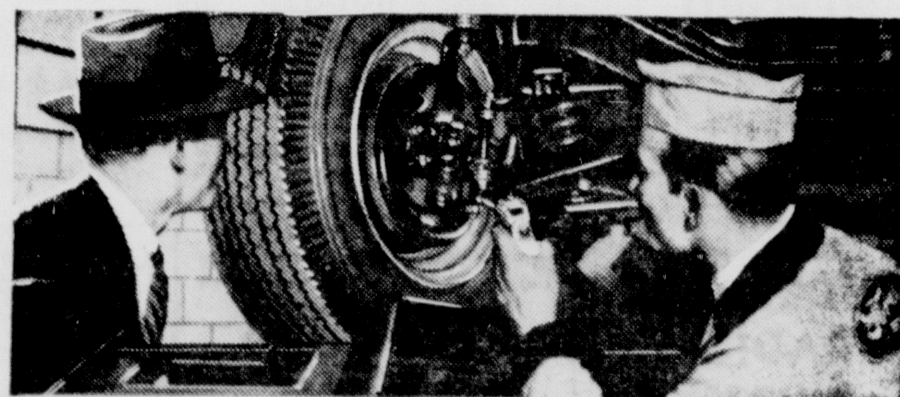

Seals out dirt. You can forget road splash because dirt and water can't get into the ball joints in Ford's new front suspension. Each of the four joints is effectively sealed by a unique rubber-and-metal shield. This means that contact surfaces of each ball and socket remain clean—wear is kept to a minimum.

Keeps that new-car feel. You'll enjoy Ford's new-car feel much longer because ball joints are spring-loaded to compensate automatically for any wear. Front wheels hold alignment far longer than with conventional systems. Ball joints can't stick or bind. Steering remains consistently easy.

THE "OLD" roads won't seem the same with Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension "paving" the way for you. You'll enjoy a softer, more level ride because Ford's new system allows greater shock absorbing movement of the front wheels. Handling is far better, too, not only on turns but on the straightaways as well. That's because conventional kingpins have been replaced by simple, sealed ball joints that won't stick or bind. No other car in Ford's field can equal this modern ride—because no other has Ball-Joint Suspension.

Agile new performance, too, is yours in a '54 Ford. Whether you choose Ford's new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8 or 115-h.p. I-block Six you get the quick response and smooth, quiet operation of a modern overhead valve, low-friction deep-block engine. And no matter which of Ford's 28 new models you choose you enjoy recognized style leadership—with clean, modern lines . . . sparkling new colors . . . and harmonizing upholstery fabrics and trim.

Eliminates 12 wear points. Ford's Ball-Joint Front Suspension eliminates 12 of 16 points of wear found in conventional systems. Rubber-bushed supports at inner ends of suspension control arms not only reduce the number of wear points but also insulate chassis from road noises.

We cordially invite you to Test Drive a '54 Ford

Record $4,288,000,000 In Taxes Paid In Year By Michigan Residents

LANSING (P)—Michigan residents paid a record $4,288,000,000 in taxes in the fiscal year ending last June 30, the State Revenue Department estimated.

Actually, the department said, the state sent $6,602,600,000 to federal, state and local treasuries—but it computed that only $8.9 per cent of this total was actually paid by Michigan people. The rest included federal excise taxes paid in other states on autos, but collected in Michigan and similar factors.

Of the more than four and a quarter billion dollars paid by Michigan residents and businesses, $3,316,700,000 went to the federal government, $562,200,000 to the state and $409,300,000 to local governments.

However, the department wrung some of the impact out of those figures by adjusting them for the increase in the state's population and the inflated dollar.

Through this process, total state and local taxes in 1953 amounted to $141.82 per capita in terms of the present day dollar—but only $74.60 per capita in terms of the 1940 dollar.

The department declared that, using the 1940 dollar, Michigan residents paid $43.17 in 1953 to the state and $31.43 to local governments.

The department estimated that a 1953 resident of Michigan paid 61 per cent more to the state than he did in 1940—using the 1940 dollar value—and actually 43 cents less to local governments than in 1940.

Do-It-Yourself Revolutionizes Kitchen Design

"Do it yourself" is no longer just the advice of homemaker magazines—it's now an accepted fact of life to the average housewife.

A recent survey shows more than 90 per cent of the nation's housewives do without domestic help, which means that they're interested in the type of kitchen that emphasizes sitting-while-working to avoid needless foot-steps, stooping or stretching.

That's the reason, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association says, that more and more makers of appliances are turning to the person who uses them the most—the housewife, naturally—for advice on design and layout.

It has resulted in a whole new family of gas appliances such as 30-inch-wide ranges for apartments; various-size water heaters including table-top models that provide extra working surfaces; the modern gas clothes dryer for home laundries and space heaters that blend with the decor.

All these new types of appliances, says GAMA, have made possible better kitchen layout design with a more strategic location of supplies and utensils as well as scientifically planned height of all working surfaces.

Here are some of the basic requirements:

1. The top burners of the range should be approximately 30 inches from the floor—varying, of course, if a woman is markedly above or below average height. There should be a work counter next to it of the same height.
2. For the easiest type of dishwashing, the sink should be approximately 36 inches high to avoid back strain.
3. All storage cabinets and shelves should be located exactly where they are needed the most for each household job so that the equipment is within fingertip reach, eliminating needless trips.
4. If a laundry area is included, it should contain a washer and automatic gas clothes dryer with facilities so planned that the clothes may be taken out of the

Subway Comes To Canada At 3 Rides For Quarter

By JAMES MONTAGNES
NEA Special Correspondent
TORONTO—(NEA)—Canadians will no longer have to travel south of the international border to find out what a New York subway is like in rush hours.

They can now find out at home on the new Toronto underground system which officially opens on March 30, just four and one-half years after the first excavations began.

For a long time to come Torontonians expect they'll have the cheapest subway on the continent.

While it cost the municipally-owned Toronto Transit Commission close to $50,000,000 to build the four and one-half miles of subway under the city's main north-south thoroughfare, Yonge Street, riders will pay the same as on the surface system—three fares for 25 cents, with free transfers thrown in.

Late this summer fares are expected to increase to a straight 10 cents with free transfers.

Incidentally, the Toronto Transit Commission built the subway largely from surplus piled up over the years when fares were four for 25 cents. They were upped to the present only two years ago.

Riders will be able to tell their 12 stations by color as well as by name. The glass masonry walls will be either of egg shell, primrose or pearl gray, with bands of red, forest green, blue or black.

The subway cars, which were built in England, have been acoustically treated with cork and other sound deadening materials.

Rails have been set on rubber cushions on solid concrete slabs for quiet operation. And there are no dark tunnels. Even between stations the subway has been brilliantly lighted.

In 1953, New Mexico produced about 199,000 barrels of oil a day.

French Divers Set New Record

PARIS (AP)—Two French naval officers rode a diving bell 13,288 feet below the surface of the Atlantic Ocean off Dakar on the west coast of Africa Monday deeper than man has ever gone before.

The plunge, 2 1/2 miles into the ocean's blackness, passed the depth record set Sept. 30 by Prof. Auguste Piccard and his son, Jacques, who dived in a bathyscaph to 10,339 feet in the Tyrrhenian Sea off the island of Ponza, Italy.

The divers — Lt. Cmdr. Georges Houot and engineer's mate Henri Willm — made today's dive in an old bell of Dr. Piccard's. That contraption, a box-like affair weighing 35 tons, had been modified by construction of a submarine-shaped float around it.

These same two men broke a diving record last Aug. 12 when they descended to a depth of 5,062 feet in the Mediterranean. Two days later they beat their own mark by going down to 6,888 feet. The bathyscaph used in today's plunge is capable of navigating on electric motors under the water. The depth boat carries metal weights held on by magnets to pull it to the bottom.

Housewives Advised To Set Aside Food And Water For Disaster

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Advice to housewives: gather up a few cans of preserved food and a gallon jar of water and stick it in a safe place.

It may help your family survive atomic attack or other disaster, says the nation's top woman civil defense official.

Mrs. Katherine Howard, deputy national director of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, said in a transcribed Texas radio broadcast Sunday a three-day supply of canned food and water should be kept in every household as minimum emergency ration.

Smart Girl Finds It's Smart To Act Dumb

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many a smart girl has learned the smartest thing she can do is to act dumb.

But Judy Holiday, who has made a fortune playing dumb blonde roles, had to take a holiday from real genius to do it. At ten Judy had an I. Q. of 172, or roughly double the intelligence level of the average Hollywood executive, if what you hear about Hollywood is true.

Genius Is Handicap

But it rather disturbed Judy to have an intellectual batting average comparable to that of Babe Ruth in baseball. She never had a desire to grow up and become a lady Einstein, and feels time has enabled her to overcome the handicap of being a child genius.

"I've had to live it down, and I think I have," she said wryly the other day at Sardi's. "They say you change every seven years. Whatever my I. Q. was when I was a child, it certainly has been going downhill since."

"But it imposed a terrible obligation on me for a long time. It embarrassed me. People expected me to be devastatingly witty—to talk like a knife blade."

At the ripe old age of 31 it says right here in black print Judy finds it more comfortable that people now expect her to be as dumb in real life as she acts on stage and screen. It is so restful.

Meanwhile Judy, currently starred in Columbia's "It Should Happen to You," has been wise enough to insist on making only one film a year so the public won't tire of her—and her own work won't become stale to her. And she hasn't let Hollywood fame or money upset her own private values. She doesn't go in for off-screen glamour.

Keeps Weight at 130

Judy is a friendly, down-to-earth, easy-going girl. But she still gets nervous over each new role as she did when she made her first hit in "Born Yesterday," a part which her tremendous memory enabled her to learn in only three days. Acting dumb is hard, serious work for an intelligent woman.

Her career has cost Judy one of the big pleasures of living—eating her own cooking. Her fighting weight is 130—and she has to fight hard to keep it there.

"I'm a very good cook, and I love to cook, but it's a trap, a pitfall for me," she said. "Because as I cook I love to taste. And by the time I serve it, particularly if it is something really good, I find it has diminished considerably in the kitchen."

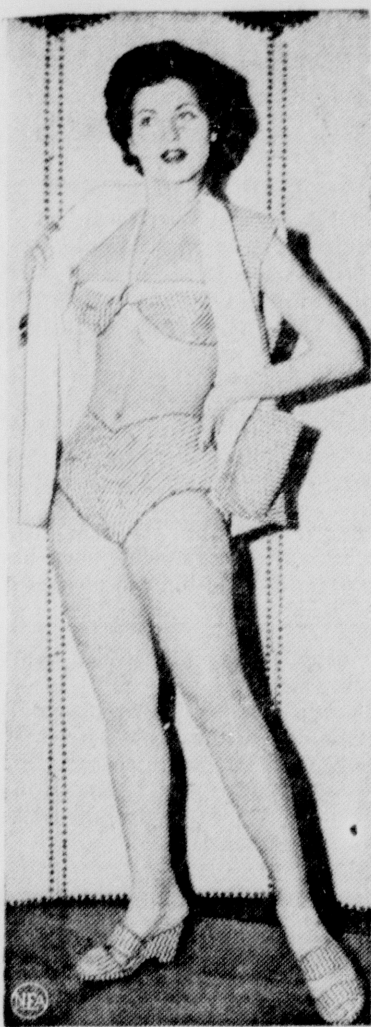

"I guess what I am most afraid of right now are calories... any calorie... all calories."

Policeman Confesses Lunch-Hour Holdup; Can't Live On $4500

Isle Royale Boosters Ask Funds To Improve Virgin Wilderness Park

WASHINGTON (AP)—A northern Michigan group today asked a House appropriations subcommittee for money to develop the 330,000-acre Isle Royale National Park in Lake Superior.

A master plan of development, prepared by the Interior Department, was submitted several years ago. At that time, it was estimated seven million dollars would be needed to carry out the plan.

Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.), who appeared with the group before the subcommittee, said lack of transportation to the island from the mainland—about 45 miles—is one of the main reasons why the park has failed to attract "the thousands of visitors" who would otherwise use its facilities.

Harold J. Wescoat, Copper Harbor, Mich., chairman of the Isle Royale Study-Development Commission, said if good means of transportation were available from the mainland, more than 35 million persons living within a 750-mile radius, would have access to the park.

Bennett said the federal government, since declaring the area a national park, has neglected it. He said in the past 10 years only about $225,000 has been appropriated—and that only for base maintenance.

The island, acquired from France in 1783 by treaty, attracted only 3,611 visitors last year.

"People would come by the thousands," Bennett said, "if they had a way of getting there and places to stay."

At present, he said, there are accommodations for only 72 persons.

Wescoat and three other members of the commission said other items most urgently needed are roads, trails and dock facilities. The commission members who appeared with Wescoat were W. C. Veale, Mohawk, Mich., C. F. Winkler, Houghton, Mich., and Gabriel Chopp, Ahmeek, Mich.

The island, entirely a virgin wilderness, contains the largest moose herd in the United States. Other game and fish abound.

Emphasizing the need for adequate transportation and modern accommodations, the commissioners said that with such improvements, "the park could readily become a profitable park."

The Twentieth Century Fund estimates that the United States has about 40 per cent of the total world income.

I AM SO THANKFUL THAT I TRIED O-JIB-WA BITTERS

Although I had read many wonderful testimonials by O-Jib-Wa users, I was still doubtful if it would help me. I was pleasantly surprised says Mrs. Annie Hamilton, 5354 Vienna Road, Clio, Michigan.

"I would like to tell all who suffer from rheumatism or arthritis what O-JIB-WA BITTERS has done for me. My rheumatism caused me such great pain that I could hardly breathe. There were times I could not raise my hands to wash my face and to talk or turn my head.

Mrs. Hamilton brought dreadful suffering. If I sat down, I had to pull myself up by the chair or table and even lifting a kettle brought such awful pains in my hands that I would almost drop it. I could barely get in or out of bed and then I couldn't turn over. I had to take sleeping pills to get any sleep at all, and besides all this I was very nervous and had little appetite. Frankly, I thought I was doomed to suffer forever. I tried taking vitamins and they helped a little, but the pains always returned. I kept getting worse until one day I went into a drug store and bought a small bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I had read many wonderful testimonials by its users, but doubted if it would help me. The first bottle I did not help me much, but I knew I should give it a fair trial, so I tried another one. By the time it was half gone, the pains were so slight I hardly noticed them, and I was really surprised and happy. At last, I was free from pain and I've had no pains since. I'm not so nervous anymore either and really sleep good. My friends are all amazed to see how well I am. I'M SO THANKFUL THAT I GAVE O-JIB-WA BITTERS A TRIAL."

Not Afraid of Rats
She bubbled with excitement Sunday night as she accompanied another woman and four men on the first stage of the exploration, requiring nine hours of crawling and hiking.

They carried 250 pounds of personal effects and equipment, which must be dragged over the rock and dirt.

Mrs. Sawtelle's bundles included the following items: a map, first aid kit, can of carbide, notebook and pencil, can opener, emergency rations, whistle, knife, kneepads, waterproof match container, 12 pounds of rope and other rock-climbing equipment, foot powder, cleaning tissues, comb, hand cream, face lotion and lipstick.

"You know there are rats in the cave?" someone asked.

Mrs. Sawtelle shrugged. "I've slept with rats running over my sleeping bag."

Mrs. Sawtelle, who earns her living training dogs, was accompanied by Marguerite Klein, 21, a schoolteacher from Chevy Chase, Md. Neither had spent more than a day in a cave.

Reporter Pooped
Sixteen male members of the exploring contingent were working their way toward uncharted portions of the cave 200 feet below the earth's surface as the expedition's first day ended. Two were physicians and one was a bridegroom who interrupted his honeymoon.

A dozen of the men together with Miss Rogers and Miss Blakesley spent their first night at Advance Camp No. 1, normally six hours travel from the entrance.

Today a four-man party was searching for a satisfactory site for Advance Camp No. 2, six hours farther in on the edge of the unexplored territory.

From Advance Camp No. 2, small parties will go out on 18-hour trips probing what geologists estimate are 40 miles of unexplored passages.

Altogether, 35 men and women will explore, and 20 others handle the job of supplying them with food and equipment and maintaining an elaborate telephone system.

Reporter Phil Hershman of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who accompanied the first group in, frankly described the hardships.

"I admit it—I'm pooped."

"You crawl on your belly so long," he related, "that it is wonderful to get up just on your hands and knees."

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

FOR "PLANE" SPEAKING—The modern "Aula Magna," main auditorium of Caracas, Venezuela's, University City, will be the site of 10th Inter-American Conference starting March 1. Constructed without any internal support, the 3000-seat auditorium gives all persons an unrestricted view of the stage. The speaker's voice is deflected by the hanging panels and is sent in equal volume to all parts of the auditorium. Each seat has a telephone and the delegate merely dials the language he desires to get and almost instantly he hears a translation of the speaker's address.

Ex-Policemen Fined For Looting In Flint

FLINT (P)—Three former Detroit policemen found guilty of looting a home while on a drinking spree were given 60 days probation and $100 fines each Monday.

Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth also ordered the ex-officers to pay $50 costs each. They were convicted by Roth without a jury Jan. 11.

The officers were Julian D. Wilson, 27, and Robert A. Friend, 25, both of Detroit, and Paul J. Brubaker, 26, now of La Porte, Ind. They admitted swiping shirts, salt and pepper shakers, and beer from a home last June 9, the morning after the tornado.

No Train Wreck

DETROIT (P)—Two boys, 10 and 11, broke into a New York Central Railroad tool shanty here and hammered open a main-line switch. But there wasn't any train wreck. The open switch set off a red warning at the signal tower. Railwaymen closed the switch. Police turned the boys over to their parents.

LANSING (P)—Winners were announced Monday in the Michigan Tuberculosis Association contest for coverage of TB news by high school newspapers.

Leading the list were newspapers from Coldwater High, Channing High, Felch High, Roosevelt Junior High, Ironwood, Powers-Spalding High, Powers, West Branch High, Algonac High, Garfield Junior High, Port Huron, and Washington Junior High, Port Huron.

Others cited included Allegan High, Brimley High, Iron Mountain High, Kingsford High, Petoskey High, Gwinn High, Graverant High, Marquette, Negaunee High, Menominee High, Zeeland High, Brown City High, Inkster High, Our Lady of Mercy High, Detroit, and Plymouth High.

Sacrifices Wasteful

TAIPEH, Formosa (P)—Taipei's city government has taken steps to send to the meat market pigs which now wind up as sacrifices on altars in Buddhist and Taoist temples. Officials said the practice of sacrificing slaughtered pigs to the gods is wasteful. And since only whole pigs are offered as sacrifices the government hoped to curb the practice by decreeing that all hogs must be beheaded when killed.

Budget Study Is Topic At Voters' League Meeting

Budgetary procedures in Congress was the subject discussed at the meeting of the League of Women Voters last night in the Carnegie Public Library.

Mrs. Russell Johnson presented an analysis of the national budget for '54-'55 using colored charts to show from what sources the national income is obtained. The significant figures on this chart were those showing that 43 per cent of the national income comes from personal income taxes and 31 per cent from corporation taxes. The significant figure on the chart showing where the national income is spent was the 68 per cent for major national security.

Decrease Recorded
Mrs. Russell reported that in the '54-'55 budget spending and income have both decreased by approximately 5 billion dollars. According to this budget we will still be 2.9 billion in the red which is, however 250 million less than this year. The books will not be balanced until 1956. The tax cuts prevented the 1954-'55 budget from being balanced.

The biggest cuts in the budget are in defense. The air force, atomic energy and the foreign military programs will get more money. However, it is expected that Congress will trim the foreign aid appropriations.

Foreign economic aid is being reduced again. Most of the money will be spent on Asia, including Korea, and on Africa and Latin America.

"On Its Own"
The president expects to decrease the amount spent on crop price supports. Moderate reductions have been recommended for many other government activities. Mrs. Russell said that the president believes in putting private business on its own. The question is, she continued, how much can we be taxed and not damage our economy? Eisenhower hopes, she said, to encourage business by lowering taxes so that the net result will be less tax on more income.

Miss Delight Mashek presented a similar study on the federal budget at the afternoon unit of the League.

Let Her Eat Grapefruit

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A teen-age girl in your family?
Then keep an eye on what she's eating. According to the U. S. Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, teen-age girls have poorer diets than boys of the same age.

Vitamin C (ascorbic acid) is one of the food elements your teen-age daughter needs every day if she is to have sparkling health, because Vitamin C is important in the formation of bones and tissues. Citrus fruit is a great source of this vitamin and so, right now, while our generous crop of grapefruit is on the market, take advantage of this good fruit and feature it in your menus.

For breakfast, young people usually like grapefruit halves sweetened with honey or maple syrup. Use a little know-how when you are preparing the halves so they look attractive. With a small sharp knife remove any seeds and loosen the fruit by cutting around each individual section. Do not cut continuously around the entire outer edge of the fruit, this just makes the grapefruit hard to eat!

Sometimes you might like to sweeten the grapefruit halves with the syrup left from canned supplies important Vitamin C.

FRESH GRAPEFRUIT

fruit. (This is a good trick when you are broiling or baking canned pineapple rings or peach halves for meat garnishes or desserts and have the fruit syrup left over.) In this case, cut around the grapefruit segments as we suggested, then snip out the centercore with a kitchen scissors or cut it out with a small sharp knife. Pour a little of the fruit syrup over the top of grapefruit, so that there's a little well of it in the core cavity.

Grapefruit, served hot, makes a delicious first course for dinner. Prepare the grapefruit halves, loosening the sections, removing any seeds, and the core. For four grapefruit halves, cream two tablespoons of sugar with two tablespoons of butter or margarine and a dash each of cinnamon and nutmeg. Spread this mixture over the fruit, putting most of it near the core cavity. Broil several inches from the heat until the grapefruit is partly heated through, usually from three to five minutes.

Fresh grapefruit also makes wonderful salads. We like it particularly with avocado, crisp greens and French dressing. This combination is delectable with so many meats — ham, roast or broiled chicken, lamb chops or leg of lamb, and roast beef or steak. It's good, too, with broiled or grilled fish fillets.

As a pickup when your teenager gets home from school in the afternoon, or in the evening when she's studying, serve her this nutritious and delicious Nog. Oldsters will like this drink, too; we do!

Grapefruit Nog
Ingredients: 1 egg (separated), 1 cup fresh grapefruit juice (the unstrained juice from 1 grapefruit usually makes this amount), dash of salt, 2 teaspoons honey, nutmeg (freshly ground if possible).
Method: Beat egg white with rotary beater (hand or electric) until stiff. Without washing beater, beat egg yolk until it begins to get thick and lemon colored; gradually beat in grapefruit juice, then salt and honey. Combine grapefruit mixture and beaten egg white, beating gently. Pour into 14-ounce glass; sprinkle or grind a bit of nutmeg over top; serve at once. Makes 1 serving.

COLLEGE-BOUND COOKIES
When you are sending cookies to your boy or girl at college, choose the bar type of cookie, or the big soft drop variety. These two kinds are good travelers if you wrap them individually and cushion your layers with plenty of plastic straw. Be sure to choose a sturdy cardboard box in which to pack the cookies.

Here's a trousseau every kitchen should have: a dozen dish and glass towels, a half a dozen dishcloths and at least four pot holders. Have two of the pot holders large and heavy; the other two can be smaller and lighter in weight.

Hatchets Help Friendly Holiday

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

IF CHERRIES are a must in your family, come Feb. 22 and George Washington's birthday, make some of these Cherry Hatchet Cookies. Serve them to small fry with glasses of milk as a special patriotic snack. In the evening, the grownups will enjoy them with a cup of tea or coffee. We like this cookie because it has an interesting texture and flavor due to its combination of maraschino cherries, coconut and orange rind. So if you want a crisp delicious cookie, that's not overly sweet, do try this recipe. If you haven't a hatchet cookie-cutter, make yourself one out of cardboard and cut around it on the cookie dough using a small sharp knife.

For a buffet party on Washington's birthday—either at noon or in the evening—you'll find our Cherry Cluster Salad festive. So easy to make, and so impressive! We served this salad with cold baked ham, Bahama-type mustard and crisp potato chips. We also had a tray of rolls and thin slices of buttered pumpernickel bread. Our tasters voted this salad the best of its type that they had eaten, and they particularly enjoyed its creamy topping.

Cherry Hatchet Cookies

Ingredients: 3 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup butter or margarine, 2 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1/2 cup finely shredded coconut, 1/2 cup well-drained chopped maraschino cherries, 5 egg yolks (slightly beaten), 2 tablespoons milk, extra maraschino cherries (sliced).

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar; cut in butter with pastry blender or 2 knives until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Add orange rind, coconut and cherries; toss lightly until ingredients are well mixed. Combine egg yolks and milk; add

Top Teams Play For Smear Title

This week's play tells the tale in the Masonic Smear Tournament for the leader and runner-up, Walter Houghton and Maurice Buchmiller, who have only one point separating their teams, are scheduled to clash in the final round.

Other pairings in the final round include Louis Bizeau vs. Elmer Peterson, George Buchmiller vs. Cecil Jones, Martin Caldwell vs. Chester Young and John Strand vs. Swan Wildar.

Lincoln-Mercury Shows New Dream Models In Detroit

Later it will feature the Lincoln-Mercury display at the Chicago show, March 13-21.

The car, a four-passenger "hard-top" coupe called the XM-800, has an overall height of only 55.6 inches. It is mounted on a 119-inch wheelbase. A concave front grille, a plain, flowing hood with a functional air scoop, a wide, wrap-around windshield supported by forward sweeping pillar posts and a chrome overlap of the roof are new styling features.

Bumpers are integral. The rear has severe angle quarter panels, dual exhausts imbedded in the bumper, and a radio antenna is centered on the sloping deck lid.

Lincoln-Mercury said the XM-800 will be placed in production if public demand warrants.

Golden Gloves Champs To Meet At Manistique

MANISTIQUE—The two Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves boxers who won championships in the recent Milwaukee Journal tournament will meet in the semiwindup of the paired match show here Saturday night.

Manistique's Harry Nelson, 118 novice champion of Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin, will face Tommy Betts of Marquette, U. P. and Wisconsin open division bantam-weight champ.

The two fighters were the only U. P. champions to win titles in Milwaukee tournament, Betts will represent Milwaukee in the Chicago Tournament of Champions in March.

HERMANSVILLE — Rodman's Bar came up with a big fourth period here Sunday night to wrest a 61-53 victory over the Stephenson Strollers.

Stephenson led until the final period of the game in which Rodman's cagers scored 18 points.

Carlson and Rossi topped Hermansville scoring with 17 points each while Van Court hit 24 for the losers.

Ted Williams Disagrees With Accepted Theory Of Hitting, But Bosox Slugger Follows It

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Ted Williams and his partner won an international salt fish contest off Florida. The Red Sox slugger caught one the first day, two the second.

To take an interest in anything, Williams has to be the greatest. The four-time American League batting champion and the last man to bat 400 collects $5000 a week for giving casting exhibitions. He heads a fishing tackle manufacturing concern.

Although an avid golf fan, Williams doesn't play. That's because the long fellow suspects he couldn't be a Ben Hogan.

Williams disagrees with the generally accepted theory of hitting, yet follows it. The principle is, of course, that the bottom, or pull, hand is the hitting hand, the other the guiding.

Williams fractured a bone in his elbow running into the Comiskey Park wall in the All-Star Game of 1950. He was taking whirlpool baths at Fenway Park, when Alvin Dark called him on the telephone.

Asked his trouble, Dark replied that it was hitting to right field behind the runner.

"I haven't good control of the bat," explained the Giants shortstop. "I pop up or hit a soft grounder."

"Maybe my theory doesn't agree with yours," said Professor Williams, throwing a towel on the clubhouse floor to serve as a plate. "If it doesn't, I can't help too much, and I probably won't be able to swing a bat on account of the elbow."

"My theory is that if you are a right-hand thrower, the right hand should not only be the power hand, but also the guiding. The reasons for this are that it

The program, starting at 8:30 at the High School gymnasium, will include 11 bouts matching fighters from Manistique, Escanaba, Marquette, Green Bay and Menominee.

Four Escanaba fighters who will see action on the card include Ron Vanderlinden, 135-pound U. P. novice champion; Dean Kalish, 112-pound runnerup; Jim Brown, 147-pound runnerup, and Johnny Roberts, 135-pounder.

The bouts are sponsored by the Manistique CYO under the direction of Fr. George Pernaski.

Other Manistique fighters who will see action in the program are Lee Billings, William McGlynn, Ken Streeter, Gary Tufnell, Loyal Archey, Werner Ammann, Norman Wood, Conrad Letson, Buddy Holmberg and Harward Lancour.

Lancour lost an extremely unpopular decision in the championship bout in the 126-pound open class at Milwaukee last week. He was the Wisconsin defending champion at 126.

Records Fall For Top College Cage Quints

NEW YORK —It's already a record year for college basketball. Furman's Frank Selvy is slated to round out a grand slam of individual scoring records tonight against little Wofford. Bevo Francis of Rio Grande is a record all by himself.

Records of one sort or another were set Monday night in games involving each of the four top teams in this week's Associated Press poll.

Duquesne's 87-56 walloping of Wayne gave the Dukes, ranked at the top of the list for the first time this season, 20 victories in succession, the longest string ever for the Pittsburgh school.

Kentucky, shoved down to the No. 2 spot, ran up its 19th win in a row, an 81-49 conquest of Mississippi State. A field goal by Linville Puckett ending the third quarter was measured at 53½ feet, is 20 per cent stronger than the other and more accurate."

Williams stressed that such celebrated right-hand batters as Jimmy Foxx and Joe Cronin would violently disagree.

Williams, you see, is a right-hand thrower and a left-hand batter, which leaves him executing the accepted theory.

Carrying out the Williams idea, Dark, the right-hand batter and

News of the death of a former Escanaba High School athletic luminary of years gone by, Herman Mithie, sent Jim Ripley of the Menominee Herald Leader digging in the track files. . . "I know he set the Walton Blech Field record in the 440 and I'll see what else I can find," Ripley said. . . Here's what he came up with:

Death of Herman K. Mithie, 47, in Santa Monica, Calif., recently brought to a close an era of sports history in Escanaba High School —1922-25—when Mithie was the scourge of the Upper Peninsula in football, basketball and track. . . Mithie, who went from Danville, Ill., to Escanaba with his coach, was a forward in basketball, halfback and fullback in football and 220-yard and 440-yard dash man in track. . . He still holds the Walton Blech Field record here for the 440-yard dash, 53 seconds flat, set in 1924 and currently the oldest record on the field books.

Mithie set his record in the third year of the annual Menominee track and field meet, which at that time was the Upper Peninsula championship event. . . He broke the previous record set by Billy Gilbert of Sault Ste. Marie, a brother of Paul Gilbert, Menominee High music teacher, who established the first 440-yard record when the meets started in 1922. Gilbert hit :57 flat in 1922 and lowered it to :55.2 in 1923. Then Mithie romped the quarter-mile in 53 seconds flat for his record in 1924. . . The same year he also sprinted the century in :10.2 and the furlong in :24.2 as he captured three first places. In 1925, his senior year, Mithie won the 100 in :10.5 and the 220 in :23.8, but the late Everett Iestas of Menominee copped the 440-yard dash in :55 flat, two seconds off Mithie's record. . . Walter Eickmeyer of Menominee has come the closest to Mithie's quarter-mile record. Walt ran it in :53.7 in 1928, which is the best mark made by a Maroon athlete at that distance.

Mithie's tremendous speed at the takeoff was also valuable in football. All he needed was a split second start and he was on his way. A stockily built fellow, he was just as adept at smashing a line as he was at sweeping an end and once he got started he was a tough hombre to bring down. . . In basketball he coupled speed with a sharp eye for the basket. I remember one game in the Soo in 1924 when Mithie scored four buckets in the closing minutes, all on long shots, to nip the Soo, 23-22, in a hectic finish. . . The name Mithie will bring a twinkle to the eyes of such old time Menominee faculty men as Les Irwin, Gil Locke, Cecil Edd, Ted Meyer and Austin Smith, who either coached or officiated at track meets when Mithie was running wild.

night, Northwestern beat Michigan 84-73 and Minnesota topped Wisconsin 78-68.

Iowa's only apparent hope now for even a share of the Big Ten title is a victory over the Hoosiers in their game at Bloomington, Ind., Monday. The Hawks now have an 8-2 record to Indiana's 9-1.

But first the Hawks must get by Illinois Saturday at Iowa City. Indiana meets Michigan State at East Lansing that night.

The Hawkeyes were ragged against Ohio State. Coach Bucky O'Connor switched lineup combinations desperately, but the Hawks simply couldn't catch fire. Paul Ebert, the Buckeye veteran, hit for 26 points.

Don Schlundt scored 23 points in Indiana's easy conquest of Purdue.

Pettit Hits 32

Bud Grant paced Northwestern's victory with 21 points while Dick Garmaker scored 28 for Minnesota in the Gopher win.

Colorado took over first place in the Big Seven by trouncing Iowa State 70-50. The Buffs now have a 7-1 record to idle Kansas' 6-1.

Bob Pettit of Louisiana State scored 32 points in LSU's 82-69 victory over Vanderbilt.

Notre Dame, No. 6, beat DePaul 86-71 for its 19th straight home court victory, while Holy Cross, No. 9, romped to an 87-57 victory over Yale.

Seton Hall came from behind in the second half to turn back Loyola of Chicago 72-60. St. Louis took over third place in the Missouri Valley Conference by defeating Tulsa 70-69.

Louisville celebrated its selection as the fourth team in the National Invitation Tournament by edging Bradley 96-90. Marquette downed St. Norbert 87-58.

thrower, would be hitting with his right, top or push hand.

When they discussed National League pitchers, Dark discovered that Williams knew more about them than he did.

Williams, a perfectionist when it comes to batting, is a close student of all pitchers. He studies the batters the same way, any new man coming into the league getting special attention.

On one spring trip, Williams drove 200 miles out of his way in South Carolina to get the batting slants of Shoeless Joe Jackson. He put the vacuum on Hugh Duffy, then a coach with the Bosox, when he was told that the little man had twice led the National League in batting, once with 438 in 1894.

Returning from Korea at the tail-end of August, after having been away two years, Williams picked up right where he left off and then some. He made 37 hits in 91 times at bat for .407. Nineteen blows were for extra bases—six doubles, 13 home runs. This means that he got a hit two out of every five trips and was a better than even chance to make it for extra bases.

Batting is Ted Williams' business, and he learned it well.

Vejar Is Injured In Airplane Crash

COLUMBUS, Ga. — Boxer Chico Vejar, now an Army private at nearby Ft. Benning, was injured in a forced landing of his private plane Monday.

Vejar, formerly ranked fifth among the world's welterweight boxers, suffered a fractured lower jaw, loss of six teeth and multiple lacerations.

A passenger, Lou Pavlic, a newly discharged soldier from Chicago, was injured slightly.

Vejar said the fuel system in his PT19 failed when he tried to switch gas tanks at a low altitude.

Glove Expert Hunter Signs Oriole Pact

BALTIMORE —The fancy-dan glove man of the Baltimore Orioles infield, shortstop Billy Hunter, signed his 1954 contract today.

The Orioles bought the 25-year-old shortstop, who fielded .970 last year, from the Brooklyn Dodgers last winter for $100,000 and three players.

Top Scoring Teams In U.P. Slated To Clash

The four top scoring teams in the Upper Peninsula are involved in two games which highlight this weekend's schedule.

The highest scoring team, Rapid River, will entertain the No. 3 scorer, St. Joe, Saturday night. Rapid has scored 1,139 points in 16 games for an average of 71.19. St. Joe has 924 in 14 for 67.28.

Mass, second highest scorer with one point less than Rapid River, will be host to Houghton, No. 4

Newhouser To Try Comeback

DETROIT (AP)—Veteran left-hander Hal Newhouser, who was released by the Detroit Tigers last season after nearly 15 years service, said today he will try a comeback with the Cleveland Indians this year.

Newhouser said he and Hank Greenberg, Indians general manager, worked out an agreement today whereby Newhouser will report to the Indians spring training camp at Tucson Feb. 24.

"I'll be just like a rookie getting a tryout, for I have not signed any contract with the Indians and we will not discuss one until I see if my pitching is still good enough to make the team," Newhouser explained.

The lean left-hander overall won 200 games and lost 147 for the Tigers. He worked in seven games in the 1953 season with one loss and no victories.

Newhouser started with the Tigers in 1939 and never has played ball for any major league club but Detroit.

Hemus Returns Card Contract Unsigned

HOUSTON, Tex. —Solly Hemus, veteran St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, has returned his unsigned contract to the Cardinal office.

Hemus, who has been working here during the winter, said Monday his disagreement with the club isn't anything alarming.

Pinch hitting specialist Peanuts Lowery and first baseman Steve Bilko are the only other Cardinal veterans unsigned.

Manistique City League Tournney Games Are Set

MANISTIQUE—The City League basketball tournament will get underway next week with games set for Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

Tournament drawings were made last night as Cooks defeated Gulliver 70-34 in the final regular season game.

On Monday Cooks will play CIO and on Tuesday Gulliver will meet the Merchants. Winners of the two games will clash Thursday night for the playoff championship.

Americans Favored In Figure Skating

OSLO, Norway —Americans, led by defending singles champions Hayes Alan Jenkins and Tenley Albright, are favored for most honors in the world figure skating championships.

A sweep by U. S. entries in the men's singles competition was predicted as the four-day test opened today.

Bednarz First Entry For Pine Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN—Army Corporal Johnny Bednarz, one of America's most gifted young ski jumpers, today became the first official entrant for the two-day classic here at Pine Mountain on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 27-28.

Missing from the ski-jumping lineup for two years, Cpl. Bednarz is back from combat duty in Korea and is stationed at Camp Lucas, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. The Army has granted him a leave to compete in his hometown events under the colors of Camp Lucas.

A native of Iron Mountain, Cpl. Bednarz is one of the most popular and colorful jumpers ever to perform on the world's highest artificial ski scaffold here.

In the U. S. Olympic team tryouts here, Cpl. Bednarz was named an alternate on the team.

In 1951, his final appearance before entering the Army, Cpl. Bednarz stole the show from a field of the best American jumpers with a grand slam win in a two-day tournament at Pine Mountain. That was the year he jumped in fog so thick the 30,000 spectators couldn't see the landing hill. His unforgettable style that day was flawless.

Cpl. Bednarz is not only a master at style, but he is one of the most powerful jumpers in the sport. His longest jump on Pine Mountain is 291 feet.

The meet on Saturday, Feb. 27, will be the Michigan State Championships. Sunday's event will be the 19th annual Kiwanis Club tournament. The benefit of jumping in "his own back yard" makes Cpl. Bednarz a ranking favorite to win both events.

Santee Sets Indoor Mile Record, 4:04.9

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING, Mich. —Wes Santee, the self-confident Kansas cowboy, has run the second fastest competitive indoor mile in history but isn't satisfied.

Santee loped around the eight-lap Michigan State College dirt track in 4:04.9 Monday night as the feature of a triangular meet among Kansas, Illinois and Michigan State. He said afterwards he's sure he can do better on a board track and that some day he will crack the four-minute barrier.

Santee's time will stand as the world indoor record for a dirt track. Only Glenn Cunningham's sensational 4:04.4 of 1938 — on a board track — exceeds Santee's performance in indoor competition.

Three Mile Records

Now there are three separate indoor mile records:

1. Cunningham, 4:04.4, 6½-lap board track.
2. Santee, 4:04.9, 8-lap dirt track.
3. Gil Dodds, 4:05.3, 11-lap board track.

Dodds set his record at Madison Square Garden in 1948. Cunningham set his at Dartmouth College in a handicap race. Both were on board tracks, but the number of laps varied.

"We have to list them separately because some places don't have board tracks and others don't have dirt tracks," explained Dan Ferris, secretary - treasurer of the National Amateur Athletic Union, in New York.

"We couldn't have one standard with the two kinds of tracks."

Santee's brilliant performance stole the show from Illinois, the meet winner with seven of the dozen first places and 48½ points. Michigan State was second with 42 points and Kansas third with 39½.

Santee was led for the first half of the race by half-miler Lyle Garbe of Michigan State who dropped out after his pacing chore was done. Santee stayed right with him and was clocked at :0.5 for the quarter-mile, and 2:04.0 at the half-mile.

Thrown Off Stride

"I didn't have a fast enough half-mile," Santee said.

The Kansan said he was thrown off his stride when Garbe crossed in front of him leaving the track. He also mentioned that a Michigan State runner tromped on his heel a few times during the race, MSC's John Cook kept pace with Santee until the last two laps. Then Santee showed one of his blazing bursts of speed to finish 80 yards ahead. Cook in second place was clocked at 4:14.2.

Michigan Leads Hockey League

DENVER (AP)—Michigan has moved into first place in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League with a half-point lead over defending champion Minnesota.

Michigan climbed ahead by dumping Colorado College twice over the weekend, 5-1 and 9-2, at Ann Arbor. The victories counted two points each in the standings. Minnesota won a pair of matches from Michigan Tech, 9-3, but each victory was valued at only one point.

The two tailend clubs, Michigan State and Michigan Tech, tackle the leaders this week. Tech is at Minnesota Friday and Saturday. State and Michigan are matched in a home-and-home series the same nights.

The schedule:

Friday—Michigan Tech at Minnesota, 1 point; Michigan at Michigan State, 1 point; North Dakota at Colorado College, 2 points.

Saturday — Michigan Tech at Minnesota, 1 point; Michigan State at Michigan; North Dakota at Colorado College, 2 points.

Howe Increases Scoring Lead

NEW YORK —Gordie Howe, Detroit's big right winger, had a 10-point lead today in his drive to win the National Hockey League's scoring crown for the fourth straight season.

Howe has scored 26 goals and has 38 assists for 64 points while runner-up Maurice (The Rocket) Richard of Montreal has collected 32 goals and 22 assists for 54 points.

In the only game played Monday night, the Red Wings climbed to a 10-point lead over Montreal by nipping the Chicago Blackhawks 3-2.

Chicago took a two-goal lead in the first period on Jack McIntyre's tallies, but John Wilson and Gordie Howe evened it up in the same period. Bill Dineen caged the winning goal early in the second period.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. —Promoter Chris Dundee announced Monday night that welterweight champion Kid Gavilan will meet Johnny Cunningham of Baltimore in a non-title 10-round fight here Feb. 23.

Cunningham upset lightweight champion Jimmy Carter in a non-title fight here last summer.

La Beach Barred From Sprinting

MELBOURNE — Lloyd La Beach, Panamanian sprinter barred from the world professional footracing championships four days after landing here, went looking for a lawyer today.

The Victorian Athletic League, decided to send him back to America because, it said, he was not in shape to run. The Panamanian, however, said the real reason was "because I refused to sign a contract to stay here after the world series of races."

League president Kenneth E. McCracken said a plane reservation would be made for La Beach today. But the runner said he would stay at least another week to settle his claim for some of the 285 Australian pounds (about $40) he says he was promised for coming to Australia.

La Beach, who was supposed to re here Jan. 5, did not arrive until Feb. 11, only 17 hours before the first race in the series. He was a distant last in both his races. The final series is Feb. 19.

Patterson Wins Tenth Straight

BROOKLYN — Undefeated Floyd Patterson won his 10 straight victory Monday night, a unanimous eight-round decision over durable Yvon Durelle of Canada.

The 19-year-old Brooklyn Negro, fifth ranking light heavyweight contender, was far from impressive although his victory was clear-cut.

"Floyd had never fought such an unorthodox fighter before and it took him five rounds to solve Durelle's bobbing and weaving tactics completely," said his manager, Custer D'Amato.

Patterson, who weighed 167½ to Durelle's 170½, missed as often as he connected and twice fell to the canvas after swinging at the air. Rusty after a two-month lay-off, Pat staggered the former Canadian light heavyweight champion several times but he couldn't drop him.

It was Patterson's third decision victory. He had seven knockouts to his credit.

Undefeated Duquesne Is No. 1 Cage Team

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK —After occupying a threatening position for several weeks, unbeaten Duquesne moved into the lead in the weekly Associated Press basketball poll of sports writers and sportscasters this week. The margin was 814 points to 761, on the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

Duquesne and Kentucky, also undefeated, each polled 24 first-place votes out of 104 ballots.

Nothing in the performances of these two teams accounted for the switch in sentiment, but indications were that the backers of Indiana and Oklahoma A&M, swung toward Duquesne after their favorites were beaten. The Hoosiers and the Aggies both were beaten for the second time this season during the past week.

Indiana retained third place with 650 points, in spite of a loss to low-ranking Northwestern. But the Aggies, beaten by Oklahoma, dropped to fifth behind Western Kentucky.

Iowa, which tied Indiana Saturday for the Big Ten Conference lead, eased into 10th place, edging out Maryland by a single point. The votes were tabulated before Monday night, when Ohio State upset Iowa 77-69 with a 11-point Indiana swamped Purdue 86-50.

The leaders (won-lost records in parentheses):

1. Duquesne (20-0) 814
2. Kentucky (19-0) 761
3. Indiana (16-2) 650
4. Western Kentucky (24-1) 537
5. Oklahoma A&M (20-2) 468
6. Notre Dame (14-2) 308
7. Seattle (24-1) 280
8. George Washington (16-1) 273
9. Holy Cross (19-1) 255
10. Iowa (14-3) 205

Team Championship Up For Grabs In Gloves

By BURDETTE B. ASHLEY
GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A surprisingly strong Jackson squad threatened to make it a three-way race with Grand Rapids and Flint for team championship tonight in the Michigan Golden Gloves tournament.

Jackson had five winners in Monday night's opening round and four strong contenders still to make their first appearance tonight.

The hard-hitting Flint squad, seeking to retain its team title, advanced five to the semi-finals while Grand Rapids led with six.

Draws Eight Bys
Lansing had only three winners but eight drew byes. They will make their first showing tonight.

Port Huron had four winners and Bay City, three. Kalamazoo advanced only two.

Petty Armstrong, Bay City 118-pounder, and Lowell Patrick, Grand Rapids, 10, both open division veterans, were two champions who survived.

Armstrong, 112-pound novice winner last year, stopped Robert Wicket of Port Huron in the second round. Patrick, novice champion last year, outpointed Bobby Moffit of Jackson in the regulation three rounds.

A third 1953 list, Bart Markel of Flint, moved up from the 118-pound novice bracket to 126-pound open and was outpointed by aggressive John Henry Smith of Grand Rapids.

A novice light heavyweight, Gary Vogel of Jackson, was marked for watching by the effective way in which he disposed of Kenneth Topp, a Grand Rapids pre-tournament favorite.

Still awaiting his first test is one of the most talked about punchers in pre-tournament speculation, big Gene Fox of Battle Creek, a novice heavyweight on the Kalamazoo team.

Thirty-two bouts are scheduled in the semi-finals, with 16 in the finals. The eight champions in the open division qualify for the Chicago eliminations.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—What does a boxer feel when he's knocked out? Surprisingly, almost nothing. The referee may be counting and the crowd yelling—but the fighter hears little, if any of this.

He's wobbling down "dream street"—that hazy, bumpy dead end.

At least that's the way it was with the five youngsters who were knocked out in the quarter-finals of the Michigan Golden Gloves tournament Monday night.

"Was I knocked out?" asked a bewildered Bob Livingston of Bay City, who was chilled after only 39 seconds of the first round. "I can't believe it. It happened so fast."

Livingston walked right into the best punch of the night—a lethal left thrown by Harold Cates of Port Huron.

Pierce Lane, the elder brother of Kenny Lane, state welterweight champion from Muskegon, was unimpressive while winning in the 147-pound open division. In fact his decision over Ernest Landrum of Bay City was greeted by some boos.

One of the smallest crowds in recent years attended the opening night slugging bee—2,917. A near capacity crowd of 6,000 was anticipated.

Huddle Today Over Pension

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—The long wrangle over the major league pension plan continued today when five men conferred in hopes of settling some of the differences between the players and the club owners.

Allie Reynolds, ace pitcher of the New York Yankees, and Ralph Kiner, home run hitter of the Chicago Cubs, American and National League player representatives, respectively, along with J. Norman Lewis, their lawyer, huddled with Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg and Pittsburgh owner John Galbreath, the owners' committee.

The main difference was over what percentage of the World Series television and radio money will go into the pension fund.

Mississippi Women's College Coeducational

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi Women's College will field football, basketball, baseball and track teams next year.
Dr. I. E. Rouse, president of the college, said Monday he hopes to have a coach within a few days and he is negotiating with other schools for a schedule.
What's the pitch?
The school was made coeducational last month and expects to change its name this spring.
